Despite coming into the tournament unranked, Oxcart quickly rose to the top. We sat down with him to learn his favorite tips and tricks as well as his plans for the future.

Congrats on your new Championship title! How does it feel?

It feeeeeeels, correct

So you were pretty confident going into the tournament?

Not at all

What was your strategy going [in ?]

I just had to believe in the heart of the cards.

What battle was most memorable to you?

The semi finals against [K.L.] because it was a rematch of a battle I had previously lost and I didn't know how it would play out.

Do you think you'll keep this same team for HIT 2024?

I think I will keep the same team. I may change one [to add more coverage]. I think they all performed well.

MEET THE ELITES

You are now the 2nd in the JKF Elite Team, but are still the highest ranked competitor...how does that make you feel?

I'm proud of myself and my competitors for doing so well. I totally plan to reclaim my title next time!

[Have you] figured out where you could improve to win the Championship back?

I think my team performed just as strongly as they are beautiful. In the end, I think we were simply outplayed by [someone] with a quicker mind.

Do you have any advice for competitors?

Keep your mind open to new ideas. There's always something new to learn in Pokémon, no matter how experienced you are. Complacency is the greatest enemy.

What battle was the most memorable to you?

Gibari the Gyarados sweeping Luna's team in the quarter finals was one to remember. It literally came down to a 5 hit Scale Shot.

Is there any significance to nicknames?

Yes! I have named all of my team members after the 6 main characters from Baten Kaitos: Eternal Wings and the Lost Ocean...if you haven't played it, you should!

Anything else you would like to add?

Shout out to Jericho, Bree, and Corvus! [We] did a lot of practice battles together...and Corvus traded me all his Fresh-Start Mochi so I could redo my EVs spreads multiple times.

You've had an impressive run so far in the JKF League! How do you feel?

I think I feel more shocked than anything. Having not grown up playing Pokémon, nobody is as surprised as me that I'm an Elite.

I saw that it was announced that you graduated from the JKF Academy...did that contribute to your success?

Absolutely, the JKF Academy contributed to my success. There was a lot of great information there that I never would have known to look for otherwise.

Do you have any advice for competitors?

Mainly just never assume you know what the other person is going to do.

You have been called the Dark Goddess by many competitors...how do you feel?

Why yes I have been called the Dark Goddess, it would be incredible to rise in the rankings to represent my powerful title.

What battle was the most memorable to you?

Honestly I feel like my battles with you and also my battle with Brad, he has such a different party and I liked the names of his Pokémon.

Assuming no new Pokemon are introduced in [SV] and no new Main Line games are released...do you think you'll keep this same team for HIT 2024?

Perhaps? There's a part of me that would like to bring my rat team back or at least make new one to use. I miss my rats sometimes.
